CHAPTER XXII.

THE peacefulness of fairland was something which Brewster could not afford to continue, and with Bertier he was soon planning to invade it. The automobile which he was obliged to order for the mysterious marquis put other ideas into his head. It seemed at once absolutely necessary to give a coaching party in Italy, and, as coaches of the right kind were hard to find there and changes of horses most uncertain, nothing could be more simple and natural than to import automobiles from Paris. Looking into the matter, he found that they would have to be purchased outright, as the renting of five machines would put his credit to too severe a test. Accordingly Bertier telegraphed a wholesale order, which taxed the resources of the manufacturers and caused much complaint from some customers whose work was unaccountably delayed. The arrangement made by the courier was that they were to be taken back at a greatly reduced price at the end of six weeks. The machines were shipped at once, five to Milan and one to the address of the mysterious marquis in Florence.

It was with sharp regret that Monty broke into the idyl of the villa, for the witchery of the place had got into his blood. But a stern sense of duty, combined with the fact that the Paris chauffeurs and machines were due in Milan on Monday, made him ruthless. He was astonished that his orders to decamp were so meekly obeyed, forgetting that his solicitous guests did not know that worse extravagance lay beyond. He took them to Milan by train and lodged them with some splendor at the Hotel Cavour. Here he found that the fame of the princely prodigal had preceded him, and his portly host was all deference and attention—all regret, too, for monsieur was just too late to hear the wonderful company of artists who had been singing at La Scala. The season was just ended. Here was an opportunity missed, indeed, and Brewster's vexation brought out an ironical comment to Bertier. It rumbled, but it had its effect. The courier proved equal to the emergency. Discovering that the manager of the company and the principal artists were still in Milan, he suggested to Brewster that a special performance would be very difficult to secure, but might still be possible. His chief caught at the idea and authorized him to make every arrangement, reserving the entire house for his own party.

"But the place will look bare," protested the courier, agast.

"Fill it with flowers; cover it with tapestries," commanded Brewster. "I put the affair in your hands, and I trust you to carry it through in the right way. Show them how it ought to be done."

Bertier's heart swelled within him at the thought of so glorious an opportunity. His fame, he felt, was already established in Italy. It became a matter of pride to do the thing handsomely, and the necessary business arrangements called out all his unused resources of delicacy and diplomacy. When it came to the decoration of the opera house he called upon Pettingill for assistance, and together they superintended an arrangement which curtailed off a large part of the place and reduced it to livable proportions. With the flowers and the lights, the tapestries and the great faded flags it became something quite different from the usual empty theater.

To the consternation of the Italians, the work had been rushed, and it was on the evening after their arrival in Milan that Bertier conducted his friends in state to the Scala. It was almost a triumphal progress, for he had generously given the town the most princely reception in years, and curiously was abundant. Mrs. Valentine, who was in the carriage with Monty, wondered openly why they were attracting so much attention.

"They take us for American dukes and princesses," explained Monty. "They never saw a white man before."

"Perhaps they expected us to ride on buffaloes," said Mrs. Dan, "with Indian captives in our train."

"No," Subway Smith protested; "I seem to see disappointment in their faces. They are looking for crowns and scepters and a shower of gold coin. Really, Monty, you don't play the game, as you should. Why, I could give you points on the potterate act myself—a milk white steed, a few clattering attendants in gorgeous uniforms, a lofty nod here and there and little me distributing silver in the rear."

"I wonder," exclaimed Mrs. Dan, "if they don't get tired now and then of being potentates. Can't you fancy living in palaces and longing for a thatched cottage?"

"Easily," answered Subway, with a laugh. "Haven't we tried it ourselves? Two months of living upon nothing but fatted calves is more than I can stand. We shall be ready for a home for dyspeptics if you can't slow down a bit, Monty."

whereupon Mrs. Dan evolved a plan and promptly began to carry it out by inviting the crowd to dinner the next night. Monty protested that they would be leaving Milan in the afternoon and that this was distinctly his affair, and he was selfish.

But Mrs. Dan was very sure. "My dear boy, you can't have things your own way every minute. In another month you will be quite spoiled. Anything to prevent that. My duty is plain. Even if I have to use heroic measures, you dine with me tomorrow."

Monty recognized defeat when he met it and graciously accepted her very kind invitation. The next moment they were ushered in with a deference only accorded to wealth. The splendor of the effect was overpowering to Brewster as well as to his bewildered guests. Aladdin, it seemed, had fairly outdone himself. The wonder of it was so complete that it was some time before they could settle down to the opera, which was "Aida," given with an enthusiasm that only Italians can compass.

During the last intermission Brewster and Peggy were walking in the foyer. They had rarely spoken since the day of the ride, but Monty noticed with happiness that she had on several occasions avoided Pettingill.

"I thought we had given up fairland when we left the lakes, but I believe you carry it with you," she said.

"The trouble with this," Monty replied, "is that there are too many people about. My fairland is to be just a little different."

"Your fairland, Monty, will be built of gold and paved with silver. You will sit all day cutting coupons in an office of alabaster."

"Peggy, do you, too, think me vulgar? It's a beastly parade, I know, but it can't stop now. You don't realize the momentum of the thing."

"You do it up to the hilt," she put in. "And you are much too generous to be vulgar. But it worries me, Monty; it worries me desperately. It's the future I'm thinking of—your future, which is being swallowed up. This kind of thing can't go on. And what is to follow it? You are wasting your substance, and you are not making any life for yourself that opens out."

"Peggy," he answered very seriously, "you have got to trust me. I can't back out, but I'll tell you this—you shall not be disappointed in me in the end."

There was a mist before the girl's eyes as she looked at him. "I believe you, Monty," she said simply. "I shall not forget."

The curtain rose upon the next act, and something in the opera toward the end seemed to bring the two very close together. As they were leaving the theater there was a note of regret from Peggy. "It has been perfect," she breathed, "yet, Monty, isn't it a waste that no one else should have seen it? Think of these poverty stricken peasants who adore music and have never heard an opera."

"Well, they shall hear one now," Monty rose to it, but he felt like a hypocrite in concealing his chief motive. "We'll repeat the performance tomorrow night and fill the house with them."

He was as good as his word. Bertier was given a task the next day which was not to his taste. But with the assistance of the city authorities he carried it through. To them it was an evidence of insanity, but there was something princely about it, and they were tolerant. The manager of the opera house was less complacent, and he had an exclamatory terror of the damage to his upholstery. But Brewster had discovered that in Italy gold is a panacea for all ills, and his prescriptions were liberal. To him the day was short, for Peggy's interest in the penance, as it came to be called, was so keen that she insisted on having a hand in the preliminaries. There was something about the partnership that appealed to Monty.

To her regret the DeMille dinner interfered with the opening of the performance, but Monty consoled her with the promise that the opera and its democratic audience should follow. During the day Mrs. Dan had been deep in preparations for her banquet, but her plans were elaborately concealed. They culminated at 8 o'clock in the Cova, not far from the Scala, and the dinner was eaten in the garden to the sound of music. Yet it was an effect of simplicity with which Mrs. Dan surprised her guests. They were prepared for anything but that, and when they were served with consommé, spaghetti—a concession to the chef—and chops and peas, followed by a salad and coffee, the gratitude of the crowd was quite beyond expression. In a burst of enthusiasm Subway Smith suggested a testimonial.

Monty complained bitterly that he himself had never received a ghost of a testimonial. He protested that it was not deserved.

"Why should you expect it?" exclaimed Pettingill. "When have you risen from tetrapi and artichokes to chops and chiceroy? When have you given us nectar and ambrosia like this?"

Monty was defeated by a unanimous vote, and Mrs. Dan's testimonial was assured. This matter settled, Peggy and Mrs. Valentine, with Brewster and Pettingill, walked over to the Scala and heard again the last two acts of "Aida." But the audience was different, and the applause.

The next day at noon the chauffeurs from Paris reported for duty, and five gleaming French devil wagons steamed off through the crowd in the direction of Venice. Through Brescia and Verona and Vicenza they passed, scattering largess of silver in their wake and leaving a trail of breathless wonder. Brewster found the pace too fast, and by the time they reached Venice he had a wistful longing to take this radiant country more slowly. "But this is purely a business trip," he thought, "and I can't expect to enjoy it. Some day I'll come back and do it differently. I could spend hours in a gondola if the blamed thing were not more expensive by the trip."

It was there that he was suddenly recalled to his duty from dreams of moonlight on the water by a cablegram which demanded $324 before it could be read. It contained word for word the parable of the ten talents and ended with the simple word "Jones."

ALLEGES DISCRIMINATION

New Albany Coal Dealer Comes Before Railway Commission.

Indianapolis, Aug. 2.—Alleging discrimination in favor of the eastbound coal trade as against the westbound trade out of New Albany, E. T. Slider, a wholesale coal merchant of New Albany, has filed informal charges with the railroad commission against the Southern railroad. By the action of the commission some time ago the Southern road reduced the freight rates on eastbound coal from Boonville to New Albany, a distance of 100 miles, to 40 cents a ton. The complaint alleges that from New Albany west, however, the old rates ranging from 50 cents to $1.20 a ton, still prevail. This is alleged to be discriminating against the shipments of the eastern coal to the west. In the complaint Mr. Slider also alleges that while the charge for the 100-mile haul from New Albany to Boonville is $1.20, yet the through charge from New Albany to East St. Louis is only 90 cents.

MAY BE A FIGHT

Clash at Arms Between Mississippi and Louisiana
Is Imminent.

AN ARMED INVASION

Peace and Dignity of Sovereign Louisiana Has Been Affronted by Mississippi Soldiers.Gov. Blanchard Orders Out His Naval Militia and Is Going to See About It.

Baton Rouge, La., Aug. 2.—A clash between the Mississippi and Louisiana authorities over quarantine regulations is imminent. Mississippi soldiers, employed as quarantine guards, have invaded Louisiana soil with arms, and boats are patrolling the mouth of Rigole's lake and Pearl river, off the Louisiana coast, to prevent Louisiana boats from leaving. Governor Blanchard has communicated with Brigadier Perrallat of his staff and Captain J. W. Bostwick, commanding the state's naval militia, directing them to investigate.

DEATH'S ONWARD MARCH

Situation at New Orleans Becomes Daily More Alarming.

New Orleans, Aug. 2.—Following is the yellow fever record up to date: New cases yesterday, 42; total cases to date, 346. Deaths yesterday, 6; total deaths to date, 68.

New Orleans, Aug. 2.—Yesterday witnessed an increase in the number of deaths from yellow fever, a fact that was not unexpected in view of the high temperature that has prevailed the past two days. There was, however, the usual large preponderance of Italian names in the list, both of new cases and deaths, which has characterized the reports since the time when the fever was first officially announced as existent here. In spite of the increased mortality, the health authorities exhibited no concern over the situation, contending that with the accumulation of cases there must be expected an increase in fatalities to maintain the average death rate of the fever. It is still possible to trace all the new cases that are appearing to the original focus, an instance being that of a case reported on Fourth street in a fashionable residence district, where a member of the household occupied a position with a large manufacturing concern in the heart of the infected region and was daily exposed to attacks by the mosquito. Meanwhile the health authorities and citizens are making arrangements to give the results of their observations of the foot outside of the original district. The scientists have declared that the female stegomyia can only receive the poison of a yellow fever patient into her system during the first three days' illness and that she is unable to communicate it until ten or twelve days thereafter. In say from seventeen to twenty days it will become evident whether or not there is to be a spread from any of the outlying foci and the health authorities will by the beginning of next week include in their daily tables besides the appearance of new foci the disappearance of existing foci from which there has been no secondary infection. On the results of these observations they will be able to determine whether, as they hope now, they can control the disease and ultimately subdue it.

The war against the stegomyia still continues and the oiling of gutters and cisterns goes on with great energy and persistency, and an effort is to be made to remove from the city all vacant lots or ponds where water stands and serves as a breeding place for the insect. The business interests continue to exert every effort to secure some modification of the quarantine regulations which have had the effect of bottling up the city commercially.

Denied With Energy.

and James H. Hyde is given an authoritative denial by a member of Miss Deacon's family.

DISASTER AVERTED

Excursion Train Was Thrown in Ditch to Prevent Collision With Flyer.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 2.—The tower operator at Kendallville, where the Lake Shore and G. R. & I. roads cross, mixed signals at 10:30 o'clock last night, and in order to prevent the westbound Lake Shore flyer and a southbound excursion train from Rome City to Richmond on the G. R. & I. from crashing into each other, the operator derailed the G. R. & I. train, throwing the engine and three coaches into the ditch. The engineer was seriously hurt and one woman thrown twenty feet against a fence. No one was killed, though several were badly hurt. The Lake Shore train did not stop.

RESTITUTION DEMANDED

Directors of Wrecked Insurance Company Asked to Disgorge.

Philadelphia, Aug. 2.—According to a bill filed in the common pleas court here five directors of the Odd Fellows Mutual Life Insurance Society of Pennsylvania are charged by Henry F. Walton, the receiver, with wrecking that concern. He accuses them of fraudulently transferring $60,000 from the treasury to the Mutual Life Insurance Company of Pennsylvania and of illegally collecting $50,000 in premiums on Odd Fellows policies. In consequence of this, the receiver says, the concern failed last March. In the suit brought he asks the court to compel the five directors and ten others to make good the $110,000 alleged to have been fraudulently taken.

VERDICT OF ACQUITTAL

Dr. Hoch Not Guilty of Murdering His Partner.

Mankato, Minn., Aug. 2.—The case of Dr. G. R. Koch, a dentist of New Ulm, who has been on trial on the charge of having murdered Dr. L. A. Gebhart, a brother dentist, on the night of Nov. 1 last, resulted in acquittal. This is the third time Dr. Koch has faced a jury on this charge, the two previous trials having resulted in discharges. Judge Gray in his charge to the jury instructed them to pay no attention to the penalty involved, but to find whether the defendant was guilty or not guilty of the crime as charged. The jury returned a verdict acquitting the defendant.

Charged With Manslaughter.

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 2.—Joseph Barrett, a young man, has been held for the superior court in bonds of $500, charged with manslaughter in causing the death of Lillian Brabner, a fourteen-year-old girl, by drowning on July 19. Barrett is accused of having abandoned the girl in deep water while bathing at Seaside park.

One Case at Shreveport.

Shreveport, La., Aug. 2.—There is one case of yellow fever in the detention camp near Shreveport. The patient is a drummer from Chicago.

Former Army Officer Who Incurred

Is Found Demented and Sorely Abused.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—Apparent evidence that labor sluggers maintain in Chicago a place where systematic torture is meted out to those who incur the displeasure of the sluggers has just come to light in the strange case of William H. Wilder. Wilder was formerly an army officer, and at the time of the recent teamsters' strike was claim agent for a Chicago package express company. He disappeared July 6, was held captive for three weeks, and was then set at liberty, half-starved and so dazed that he has not been able to give a coherent account of his captivity. He was found by a friend wandering aimlessly about near the Union station at Canal and Adams streets and was taken to his home at Downers Grove. Physicians pronounce his physical and mental condition such that he may not recover. Much of the time he raves wildly and, as though still under torture, begs for mercy. Marks all over his body show that he had been bound with heavy cords. Over a hundred dollars he is known to have had on his person is gone. Wilder is an Englishman who saw service in the American army in Cuba and in the Philippines and held a commission as second lieutenant in the regular army. He is a bold, outspoken fellow of thirty-seven, who gloried in his physical ability to take care of himself and defied pickets or sluggers to intimidate him.

Linevitch Has Strong Hopes.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 2.—General Linevitch has telegraphed to the emperor denying the frequently published report that his army was completely surrounded. He says that the army has never been in a dangerous position. The flanks have never been turned, although the Japanese sought to do so, "the Japanese, who are some distance from our principal positions, having failed in their attempts to approach them." The general adds: "The morale of the troops inspires me with complete confidence that the arm is ready for any task."

Will Recast Project.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 2.—A bureau of council, composed of officials of the imperial chancellery, has taken over from the committee of ministers the work of elaborating a project for the convocation of the national assembly. The project is to be thoroughly recast and of a more liberal form. When complete it will have little in common with the scheme presented by Minister Bouligin. The council will not touch upon the question of principle, confining itself to details on which there are differences of opinion.

FORTUNE TELLING

Does not take into consideration the one essential to woman's happiness—womanly health. There is many a woman whose future seems absolutely unclouded who is marked by her own condition for future disappointment and distress.

The woman who neglects her health is neglecting the very foundation of all good fortune. For without health, love loses its lustre and gold is but dross.

Womanly health may be retained or regained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries the system, which weakens women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

Dr. Pierce offers $500 reward for women who cannot be cured of the above diseases. His "Prescription" has been so successful in curing thousands of cases in the past third of a century that he makes this remarkable offer to show his confidence.

"I have taken six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Miss M. E. Orlin, of Orlin, Simcoe, Ontario, "and two bottles of the 'Pleasant Pellets' as you advised for congestion of uterus, ovaries, and weakness, and can safely say that your medicine has been the means of restoring me to good health again, which I had not had for over three years, until taking your medicine. I thank you very much for your kind and prompt attention to my letter asking advice."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets clear the complexion and sweeten the breath.

It appears that the republicans of Indianapolis are getting together and mean to elect Bookwalter mayor by an unusual majority. That is the thing for them to do and there would be no good excuse for them not doing it.

THE man who goes out to kill squirrels now should not forget that the law requires him to have a license if he hunts outside the township in which he resides. Application is made to Z. T. Sweeney, state game warden, who resides at Columbus.

COL. WILL CUMBACK died at his home in Greensburg Tuesday morning. He was lieutenant governor soon after the war and prior to that time served one term in congress. He was a candidate for governor in 1896 when Jas. A. Mount was nominated.

In his annual report State Geologist Blatchley pays Jackson county a richly deserved compliment. He speaks in highest terms of the richness of the soil and says "no better crops of corn, wheat, oats and melons are produced in Indiana than are grown on the first and second bottoms west of Seymour." He also speaks of the adaptability of the county for raising fruits.

He also discusses the valuable deposits of clays and shale suitable for manufacturing purposes and which are now being utilized to a limited extent. He finds in this county plenty of suitable raw material for the manufacture of paving brick and says that no better point exists for locating a factory for manufacturing such brick than right here in Jackson county. Here is a fine opportunity for some one to engage in a profitable line of manufacturing.

Big Contract.

The contract awarded to W. D. Pratt, of Indianapolis, to print the Modern Woodman, the official paper of that order, is one of large proportions. The paper is a twenty-four page monthly and the circulation is now 780,000. It will require five freight cars to transport the blank paper for one issue and twelve mail cars to haul it away after it is printed. The printing costs about $6,000 a month. Bringing it to Indianapolis will increase the postal receipts of the Indianapolis post office about $12,000 a year. The new printing contract saves the order about $15,000 annually.

Just how she could have received so many wounds from only four shots seems a mystery.

TRACTION TALK.

Promoters Feel Confident Since Confering with Chicago Men.

Some of the men interested in the proposed electric road from Columbus through Seymour and on to French Lick were in Chicago this week to consult with Chicago parties about financing the proposition. Since their return they express themselves as confident that the line will be built and that a positive statement to that end will be made in the near future. Among the local people in the line are W. H. Starks, J. B. Burrell and L. F. Wright who were accompanied by William Woodard, an old railroad construction man and a former resident of this city. While these men speak more hopefully than ever they do not care at this time to discuss the matter in detail.

It is known however that the Chicago capitalists believe that the proposed line would do a paying business. Under certain conditions they are ready to supply capital for constructing and equipping the road, and it is believed that one of the conditions named was the voting of a subsidy in each township through which the road would pass. There will be a meeting of the local promoters within a few days.

The line if constructed will start at Columbus and run south to Seymour, but whether it goes on the east or west side of the river it is said will depend largely upon the liberality of the people along the way. From Seymour it is proposed to build through Brownstown, Vallonia, Campbellsburg, Paoli, West Baden and French Lick.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

CATARRH

A UNIVERSAL DISEASE

Catarrh usually begins with a cold in the head, but does not stop there. The mucous membranes all become inflamed and secrete a filthy, unhealthy matter which is absorbed by the blood and distributed to all parts of the body. The patient is then continually hawking and spitting, the nose is stopped up, the ears have a ringing or buzzing noise, the throat becomes sore, and as the unhealthy matter more thoroughly saturates the blood a general feeling of despondency takes possession of the system.

I had Catarrh for about fifteen years, and no man could have been worse. I tried everything I could hear of, but no good resulted. I then began S. S. S., the first bottle, and after taking it a short while was cured. This was six years ago, and I am as well today as any man. I think Catarrh is a blood disease, and know there is nothing on earth better for the blood than S. S. S. Nobody thinks more of S. S. S. than I do. LAPEER, Mich. M. MATSON.

Local applications cannot cure Catarrh, because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. They allay the inflammation and temporarily relieve the disease, but as soon as they are left off the trouble returns. The only way to cure Catarrh is to treat it through the blood. S. S. S. soon clears the blood of all Catarrhal matter and purges it of all irritating poisons, checks further progress of the trouble and completely cures the disease. S. S. S. keeps the blood in perfect order so that it can eliminate from the system all waste matter that will produce Catarrh. Nothing equals

INVESTIGATION SOUGHT

Railway Postal Clerks Want to Lay Official Cease.

Indianapolis, Aug. 2.—Indianapolis railway postal clerks, in their annual meeting in this city, adopted a resolution calling for a thorough investigation of the affairs of the national association, in order that criticism of the national officers' conduct of their offices may be stopped.

"While we have the utmost confidence in the honesty, integrity and business capacity of our national officers," the resolution ran, "there has been so much doubt and discord engendered in our ranks through the representations of certain evil-disposed persons that we deem it proper for the satisfaction of all members that a thorough investigation of the affairs of our association be made by a competent and impartial committee, to be selected by and from the delegates of our next national convention."

The present national officers of the Railway Postal Clerks' association, the president and the secretary in particular, have been charged with mismanagement of their offices and the affairs of the organization. These charges were investigated by the executive committee of the association, and were not sustained, but the criticism was continued. The resolution adopted by the Indianapolis branch of the association will be brought before the national convention of the organization, which meets in Cincinnati next October, and, if there adopted another investigation will then be instituted.

By sunset tonight the soldiers of the Indiana national guard will be firmly established in their camp of instruction at Fort Benjamin Harrison, as the army post site near Lawrence is called. Arrangements looking to the establishment of the camp were completed yesterday and several companies arrived from different parts of the state. The first regimental parade will be held this evening. Tomorrow Governor Hanly will make his official call upon the troops as commander-in-chief of the guard. He will be accompanied by various members of his staff. On Sunday afternoon Governor Hanly and the members of his staff in full uniform will review the troops. The encampment will last for ten days.

In his consolidated report to the national organization, Assistant Adjutant General Walker of the Indiana G. A. R., says that on July 1 there were 400 posts in this state with a total membership of 14,861. On December 31 last there were 404 posts and 15,721 members. This means a falling off in membership during six months of $06. Of this number 263 were removed by death. The others were either discharged or transferred. The cash statement for the half year shows that the receipts from all sources were $24,894.13 and the total disbursements $13,569.87. The cash balance on hand is $56,410.43 and the amount invested in collaterals, $9,323.17, making total assets, $65,733.60.

Fraud Exposed.

A few counterfeiters have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, and other medicines, thereby defrauding the public. This is to warn you to beware of such people, who seek to profit, through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing disease, for over 35 years. A sure protection, to you is our name on the wrapper. Look for it, on all Dr. King's or Bucklen's remedies, as all others are mere imitations. H. E. Regimental Reunions and Forty-Second Anniversary Battle Chickamauga, Chattanooga, September 17-21, 1905.

On September 18, 1905, will occur the forty-second anniversary of the Battle of Chickamauga. It is proposed to celebrate this memorable event with a reunion of the various regiments that participated in this memorable battle, and, in addition, to hold at the same time, a grand reunion of all the regiments that participated in the various battles fought around Chickamauga. This reunion will be held at Chickamauga National Park, September 18, 19 and 20, and the present indications are that it will be the largest and most notable gathering ever held in the south. On the above dates, the remnants from the armies of twelve states, comprising the following: Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas and Kentucky, will assemble, many for the first time since they marched from their blood-stained fields, forty-two years ago.

Grand and glorious will be the meeting and all who attend will have cause to rejoice. The lowest rate ever secured has been given, the entire public for this occasion, one cent per mile, short line distance.

Here is one of the great opportunities for the education of the youth. Don't fail to take your children and show them historic Chickamauga, with all its historical connections. It is the opportunity of a lifetime. Go and see the old war generals and other officers point out the places of interest on the battlefield; let them show you and explain, in person, the markers erected on the battlefield showing the positions of the opposing armies at the time of battle. It will not be long until time will be left to do this noble work; take this opportunity and don't let it escape you. It is worth six months in the school room to any student.

It will be many years, if ever again, that such an opportunity will present itself. See that your tickets read via the Louisville & Nashville R. R., the Battlefield Route. Call on your nearest railroad agent for rates and advertising matter pertaining to the reunion or write nearest representative of the Louisville & Nashville R. R.

A dancing pavilion had been erected and all took delight in the hour spent at that diversion, music being furnished by the Wieneke brothers of Chestnut Ridge. The Schumann Choral Club of Seymour rendered some very pleasing choruses, and many of the other guests entertained the gathering by vocal and instrumental solos. Mr. Crane has been confined to his bed for the past week with a stone bruise on his foot but was able to be up and take the part of host a short time during the evening.

GYPSIES

Proving Themselves a Nuisance All Along the Road.

The town was over run Monday with Roumanian gypsies. They would go from store to store begging people found there to let them tell their fortunes. In their camp at the edge of the city they had five wagons, several bony horses, a number of dirty men and women and an abundance of children and dogs. They are the same crowd that was run out of Greensburg and Connersville and also Rushville. At the latter place the women would call at the residences in the city and while they were telling fortunes others would go into the gardens and steal vegetables. The officers made them move on soon after they entered the city. —Shelbyville Republican.

This is doubtless the same band that passed through Seymour Tuesday. They were not permitted to stop in the city. In Reading township they practically held one man up and made pretense of telling his fortune and relieved him of $1.70 but he afterwards recovered $1.50. They will bear watching.

Pleasant Afternoon.

The afternoon reception given yesterday by Misses Bertha and Daisy Alwes in honor of their guest, Miss Lillian Martens, of New Albany, was one of the most pleasant occasions of the kind of the summer season. Thirty guests shared in the enjoyment of the afternoon at the Alwes home on north Poplar street. One of the features of entertainment was the contest for the pot of gold which was found by Miss Myrtle Bennett, who was the fortunate one in tracing the strands of the spider web to the end of the rainbow. In the game of noted cities honors were won by Miss Bertha Short. Miss Amelia B. and rendered some very pleasing piano selections. Refreshments were served.

The out of town guests were Miss Nina Patrick, of Indianapolis, and Miss Merle Little, of Ohio. Miss Martens will return to her home at New Albany Saturday.

HE ASKS A FAIR TEST

State Superintendent Cotton Bases
His Request For Third Term
On Logical Grounds.

Education and Politics Should Be Divorced, He Points Out, In Interest of Schools.

Indianapolis, Aug. 2.—Faslett A. Cotton, state superintendent of public instruction and candidate for re-nomination, bases his request for a third term on the ground that education and politics should be divorced, and on the record made by himself during the four years he has been in office. Among other things he points out that there is a well-defined tendency all over the country to retain state superintendents and other school officials who have proven themselves competent and satisfactory. "Four years are not long enough to carry out any well-defined plan of education for the state," said Mr. Cotton recently in speaking of his canvass. "A change of administration always involves a change of policy. No definite plan is carried to completion and no permanent advance can be made in any department of school work with frequent changes. This administration has begun work along definite lines, and asks a fair test of the work. It is willing to go before the public with the record it has made." One of Superintendent Cotton's predecessors, Superintendent James H. Smart, held the office for three terms. All other state superintendents have been retired after the second term.

BROWN'S HOPE GONE

Elkhart Clock Wrecker Must Serve
His Time.

Indianapolis, Aug. 2.—Walter Brown, the Elkhart manufacturer who is now held on an eight years' sentence in the United States prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., probably will have to serve his time. The United States circuit court of appeals at Chicago has handed down a decision on his appeal from the sentence of the district court, and it affirms the finding of the lower court.

Brown was convicted on the charge of having been implicated with President Justus L. Brodriek and Cashier W. L. Collins in wrecking the Indiana National bank of Elkhart. They were tried in the United States district court in this city early last year and all were found guilty. Brodriek being sentenced to ten years, Brown to eight years, and Collins to six years' service in the Ft. Leavenworth prison. Brown was sentenced on thirty-four counts and exceptions were taken to all of these in his appeal.

Brain Workers.

Brain workers suffer from headache because they over-tax and exhaust the brain nerves. Tired, irritated, turbulent brain nerves throb and ache; this weakens the brain power, and robs the memory.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills bring tranquility to the excited nerves and stop the pain.

If not relieved, this nerve disturbance is frequently extended to the stomach, causing nausea, vomiting—sick headache.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are convenient to take—just a little tablet, that in a few moments relieves the pain; they leave no disagreeable after-effects, as they contain no opium, morphine, cocaine or chloral in any form.

"From personal experience I can testify that Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are a most excellent remedy for headache and neuralgia. I have been a great sufferer from both diseases for the past three years. A friend who had also suffered from neuralgia handed me some of the Anti-Pain Pills. I took them and they gave me almost instant relief. Since then I have a package at home, and another at the office, and they never fail to relieve me." R. V. MEGARRY, 337 S. Sawyer St., Chicago, Ills.

IT RESTS WITH HILL

Railway Magnate Appealed to in Behalf of Telegraphers.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 2.—All the telegraph operators of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific systems have been ordered out by President Perham of the Order of Railway Telegraphers. According to the officials of the telegraphers' union, between 1,200 and 2,000 men will be affected by the order.

St. Paul, Aug. 2.—All negotiations which have been pending between the Order of Railway Telegraphers and the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railways came to a sudden end when General Manager Horn of the Northern Pacific notified the telegraphers of that system that the company's proposition as to the rate of wages it would pay was final and they could accept it or leave the service.

The Great Northern officials took practically the same stand toward their employees, thus throwing confusion into the ranks of the telegraphers, who hardly expected such a move.

The only chance of an adjustment of the trouble rests with President J. J. Hill, who is in New York, and to whom President Perham of the railway telegraphers has appealed in a telegram. Mr. Hill was asked to decide questions that President Perham and Vice President Newnam have been discussing with General Managers H. J. Horn of the Northern Pacific and F. F. Ward of the Great Northern. The points in dispute, Mr. Perham declares, relate to wages only in the case of both roads. Just how many men have refused to consider the terms offered by the roads is uncertain, no definite reports having been received at the headquarters of either road. The orders affect about 750 operators and agents on the Great Northern and about 1,200 on the Northern Pacific.

Get Away with $100,000.

San Francisco, Aug. 2.—Allan Howard, for years a business man of this city, devoting himself chiefly to the lending of money, is an absconder. He hurried to Honduras several days ago from New Orleans. He took with him all the money he could rake together from the various investments of his clients, which is thought to have approximated $100,000. The news of his flight was received by his wife in a letter dated New Orleans, July 20, in which he said he would be in Honduras when it was received. He added that it was either flight or suicide.

Taft Party Leaves Japan.

Nagasaki, Aug. 2.—The steamer Manchuria with the Taft party on board sailed at 7 o'clock last evening. During the afternoon Secretary Taft and Miss Alice Roosevelt attended an outdoor fete at Otsuwa park, given by the governor. There was a large concourse of Japanese and foreigners, and a hearty reception was given the visitors. Miss Roosevelt was presented with a large bouquet by the ladies' patriotic society.
